

HGA's Convergence 2010 Albuquerque Multimedia Fiber Arts Exhibit

Exhibit

July 22 - 25, 2010, Albuquerque Convention Center, Albuquerque, New Mexico

An international juried exhibit featuring multimedia works created using fiber arts techniques.

Eye dazzling rugs and blankets are among the earliest types of Navajo textiles to be woven with manufactured yarns and synthetic dyes. Because of their fine texture and wide range of color, these "Germantown" yarns lent themselves to fine weavings and infinite detail. When these fine yarns with their exciting array of colors combined with the new Saltillo designs the Navajos were learning from the Spanish Colonial weavers during the transitional period (1880-1900), colorful complex textile designs resulted. Let the inspiration of outside influences, change of environment, new materials, the incorporation of neighboring ideas inspire you for this Multimedia Fiber Arts exhibit, which is open to work created using any fiber arts technique.
